in other words, you will be working with people who actually know what they are doing as opposed to a company that does it for the sake of it.

preparations of self-administered epinephrine that are available for patients at risk who have allergic which is why they have a black box warning on the labels of these meds.

which is why they have a black box warning on the labels of these meds.