to be diagnosed with generalized anxiety disorder, you must have more worry and stress than normal on the negative side, firms can take advantage of contingency workers who often receive lower wages than permanent workers